ORDER:

In the reference 1st read above, the Advocate General of Andhra Pradesh has stated that in view of the proposed Lok Adalat in December, the legal services committee of AP convened a meeting with regard to the matters concerning government which could be resolved through Lok Adalat.

(i) It was proposed by Hon'ble Chief Justice that if there are pending matters challenging transfer orders and if stay has been granted and in subsistence for over six months, the said WPs could be disposed of with a direction to maintain status quo till the onset of the next academic year with liberty to pass orders afresh.

(ii) WPs where there are claims for regularisation of services and the government has not taken action thereon, WPs could be disposed of with a direction to pass orders on such representations within 2 months in accordance with the policy of the Government.

(iii) WPs filed and pending seeking relief of finalisation of pension could be disposed of directing the government to finalise the same in accordance with law in a time-frame.

2. The Advocate General has also stated that in case government is agreeable to the above, it requires the GPs to prepare a list of such matters for being furnished to the office of Hon'ble Chief Justice for being listed in Lok Adalat. In respect of matter which might be identified for such proposals, the Government may authorise one officer appropriate rank to sign on behalf of the respondent Government departments, in such matters.

3. In the reference 2nd read above, the Government have accepted the proposals made by the Advocate General.

4. Government, after careful examination of the matter, hereby nominate the Secretary to Govt (Services & HRM), General Administration Department as the Government representative authorized to sign on behalf of all the respondent Government Departments.
